

“Tell me and I forget, Show me and I may remember, INVOLVE ME AND I WILL LEARN”

Suzy Berry specialises in promoting individual and company behavioural change through training, one on one coaching, keynote speaking and facilitation of conferences, strategic forums and meetings.

She has over twenty-five years commercial experience, within a strong sales and customer service orientated background, focused on delivering profit in competitive environments and delivering a consistent exemplary level of relationship-based service.

Having run multimillion-dollar accounts and sales teams, she appreciates the importance of outcome focused interactions and tailors her delivery to the client's brief. She has set up and run her own successful boutique real estate business and now focuses full time on helping others to achieve their full potential.

Suzy has trained thousands of people across all differing businesses, cultures, demographics and experience levels in the UK and Australia. Recent clients include Qantas, Australian Radio Network, Toyota, Edwards Life Sciences and Zendesk.

Her presentation style is energetic, fun, enthusiastic, dynamic, experiential and inclusive.

Short Bio

Having a passion for people development has meant that Suzy has consulted on and facilitated behavioural change programmes for 1000's of people throughout her career, both here in Australia and in the UK. She is outcome focused and thrives on helping clients to achieve their business and personal goals. Suzy's style is energetic, enthusiastic and inspiring.